This GOES-4 Band 4 image shows the developing ash cloud at the start of the 1999 eruption of Shishaldin volcano. Darker colors correspond to lower temperatures, with the higher portions of the ash column being colder due to their high altitude.